Beginner Tablature for the Viol

Presented by
John Mark Rozendaal
Karen Burciaga, Coordinator

Registration Deadline, April 10, 2021

Lyra-viol music written in tablature offers the solo viol player an extensive repertoire of challenging, entertaining music by some of the best composers of the 17th century. But accessing this repertoire can be a cognitive challenge! This class is a practice session to get the “tab chops” moving; including basic technical exercises and easy ensemble music played from tab; and two solo simple solo pieces from the “Manchester” tablature. Parts will be provided for bass, tenor, and treble instruments. Pitch: A=415

John Mark Rozendaal teaches and performs music from the Medieval, Renaissance, and Baroque eras. JMR performs as a member of Trio Settecento; Brandywine Baroque; and LeStrange Viols. Rozendaal has performed with Chicago Baroque Ensemble; City Musick; Basically Bach; Newberry Consort; Orpheus Band; King's Noyse; Boston Early Music Festival; Second City Musick; and Hesperus; recordings on the Cedille and Centaur labels.

A dedicated teacher, Rozendaal has served on the faculties of the VdGSA Conclave, Viols West’s annual workshop, Amherst Early Music, and Madison Early Music Festival. JMR teaches the Viola da Gamba Dojo and Medieval Strings classes in NYC.
